Omaha Women Organize to Assist the

Boldiers in the Field. WILL JOIN THE NATIONAL ORGANIZATION

Nebraska Sanitary Aid Commission Elects Officers and Gets Ready for Active Operations in Connection with Army.

The movement to form an organization of Nebraska women on the lines of the Christian Commission that contributed so largely to the comfort of the union soldiers in the civil war took tangible form at a meeting held at the Commercial club yesterday afternoon. There were about fifty women present, the assemblage being fairly representative of Omaha femininity. After two hours of discussion an organization was effected which will be known as the Nebraska Sanitary Aid commission. The organization will endeavor to connect itself with the national organization that is now being formed in the east, and the members expect to be the first western women to join the movement.

The meeting was called to order at 2:30. Mrs. George B. Eddy was made temporary chairman and Mrs. C. W. Damon, secretary. Major T. S. Clarkson was then introduced to outline the objects of the meeting. He discussed the work that had been done by the women in the civil war at some length and suggested that inasmuch as a number of the Nebraska militiamen were already sick at Lincoln there is work for the women to do at once. He briefly suggested a few ideas in regard to organization and then the floor was turned over to the women.

After some discussion a motion to appoint a committee on permanent organization and nomination of officers was carried, and Mesdames W. S. Askwith, George A. Hoagland and Cox were designated as the committee. In accordance with the plan of organization, which was subsequently recommended by this committee, the meeting proceeded to ballot for the election of officers, with the following result: President, Mrs. George A. Hongland; first vice president, Mrs. G. B. Eddy; second vice president, Mrs. S. H. Sheeler; secretary, Mrs. W. S. Askwith; treasurer, Mrs. Olin Davenport,

A motion that the members of the Woman's Relief Corps be exempted from paying dues in the new organization was defeated at the insistent request of these members who declared that they did not wish to be exempted from any of the obligations of the commission. Another meeting will be called at an early date, at which the plans for future action will be considered.

POOR LO FULL OF FIRE WATER Winnebago Indian Police Omaha and Get Locked Up

for Being Drunk. If the entire Indian police force from the Winnebago Agency were to come to Omaha, it is hard to tell what would become of the city, and it is not at all likely that the agency would feel any lack of protection because of their absence. Yesterday the city authorities at the jail had the painful duty of removing the stars from a number of the gallant Indian officers and placing them in cells together with the common herd of plain drunks. After a number of the Indians had been landed in jail, a stalwart fellow policeman of theirs came to the fall to seek their release. He wore a star and carried a billy, and seemed imbued with the idea that the jail was a bad

"Heap bad place," he said, "polica man never drink, never get drunk, whiskey bad; get my friends out. My name Jim Fisher, Winnebago."

While Fisher was telling of the evils of intemperance his legs were unsteady under him and his tongue was thick. He did not effect the release of his friends and narrowly escaped being thrown in the same cell with them.

Deputy United States marshals have investigated where the liquor was obtained which was making all the hilarity and Lew Smith of the Aetna House bar and Martin Hittelmaier were arrested on the charge of selling liquor to Indians, and two Indians, Little Bird and Jum Smith No. 2, were arrested on the charge of giving liquor to Indians. All four of these men will be given a hearing before United States Commissioner Anderson today at 10 o'clock.

CHARLES THE THE THE THE TRANSPORT OF MUSIC.

TOTAL SECTION AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON ADDRESS OF THE PERSON AND ADDRESS OF THE PERSON ADDRES

This evening at the First Congregational the musical department of the Woman's club will give its last musical for the season, under the direction of Mrs. J. M. Metcalf. The club will be represented upon the program by the chorus of ladies which has been a new and successful feature inroduced this year by Mrs. Metcalf and conducted by Mrs. Cotton. It will be heard in a number of carefully prepared selections. The concert is especially noteworthy on account of the presence of Miss Anna Metcalf, soprano. Miss Metcalf has been abroad for a number of years studying and singing in concert and has scored numerous successes on each side of the Atlantic. She has not been heard in this city since her leturn to America and great interest naturally prevails among her many friends to hear her once again and to enjoy the fruits of her work in Europe. Mr. Gahm and Mr. Albert will also appear upon the program and assist in making what seems sure to be one of the pleasantest musical evenings granted to the Omaha public this season.

The ladies' chorus has been in Lincoln tival and if one may judge by the reports,

Both in its composition and execution the first evening's program of the second May festival held by the Matinee Musicale at the Oliver last evening must be considered a clean cut success. Nothing was ered a clean cut success. Nothing was lacking and nothing was dragging. There was a fine audience, unmoved by the rain storm. They created a considerable storm of their own in the shape of thunders of applause. This was noticeably the case of Mrs. Cameron of Omaha, a pupil of Mrs. Cotton. Coming unheraided, she enlisted without an effort at recruiting all of the sympathies and feelings of the listeners before she had sung two phrases. If Mrs. Cotton has any more pupils of this kind Cotton has any more publis of this kind she may bring them here at once. So in-sistent was the demand for hearing this soprano again that the same numbers (Den-zer's "May Morning." in addition to the program number) were repeated this after-

Next Monday evening at the First Congregational church, Mr. William Armstrong, musical editor of the Chicago Tribune, will give a lecture under the local direction of Homer Moore, upon "Modern British Composers." Mr. Armstrong is an intimate friend of nearly all the prominent musician of England and is able to put into his addresses just those little every day facts and fancies which one would ask about if he had a chance. There is always a mystic air surrounding the composer that the average person never is allowed to penetrate but Mr. Armstrong has done so and his vivid descriptions of the men and their ways possess a charm of truth and novelty that is facinating.

Mr. Armstrong is at present in California but will pass through Omaha next week on his way to England, where he is to lecture before the Royal Academy of Music and several other great institutions. A number of vocal selections will be rendered, illustrating the styles of music written by modern British composers.

BURGLARS STILL AT WORK

Police More Successful in Suppressing News Than Catching Thieves.

DETAILS OF THREE RECENT RAIDS

Home, Grocery Store and Saloon I Different Portions of the City Looted and No Trace of the Robbers.

The fact that there have been fewer re orted burglaries and robberies lately is no indication that there has been a cessation of those occurrences and the truth lies rather the other way. The police have simply been more successful recently in suppressing records of stolen property and the public has been resting in ignorance of the fact that thefts and burglaries are continuously going on. During the last week police officials have answered repeatedly that no burglaries have been reported, when as a matter of fact scarcely a night passes without such complaint being made at the central station.

One burglary in which the stolen property amounted in value to more than $100 occurred recently in the apartments of Mrs. L. Beindorf, 816 South Twenty-second street. Mrs. Beindorf left her rooms in the afternoon and was absent for about an hour A thief had apparently taken note of her departure and immediately took advantage of it. He entered the room with a skeleton key and thoroughly overhauled its contents. On her return Mrs. Beindorf found that everything of value had been located and carried away. The most serious losses noticed were several valuable rings which had been left in a dressing case. One of these bore a diamond setting, one an emerald setting and one a pearl and turquoise setting. The matter was reported to the police at once, but no progress has been made in the case.

On last Sunday night burglars visited the grocery store of James S. Williams & Son. 2819 North Twenty-fourth street, and carried away a part of the stock. They removed a heavy grating that covered a cellar window and crawled through a small opening that had already been made in the glass. On the same night a burglary occurred at the saloon of G. N. Fairbrother, 724 South Thirteenth street, and in this instance also rence took place. When the bartender came to work at 6 o'clock Monday morning he found that someone had entered the saloon through a rear door. A hole had been cut in the panel with a jackknife, sufficiently large to allow the admittance of a hand. The door had been unlocked and the thieves turned themselves loose on the stock. They left evidences of having freely sampled all the goods within reach and carried away a quantity for future consumption. Among the missing articles were several thousand igars and several cases of liquors.

RAIN AND SNOW IN THE WEST Railroads Report Nebraska Soaked-Blizzard in Wyoming.

All the railroads leading into Omaha report good, soaking rains on Tuesday, Tuesday night and Wednesday morning along their respective lines. The Burlington's weather report of Wednesday shows general rains throughout Nebraska, with mixed snow and rain in Wyoming. From Cheyenne three inches of snow was reported, but the weather was mild and there appeared to be no indication of a blizzard there. The Elkhorn reported heavy rains along its line in Nebraska and Wyoming. In the Black Hills of South Dakota there was a hard snow reported on Tuesday, but on Wednesday morning this snowstorm changed into throughout Kansas and Nebraska with some snow in Wyoming was reported by the Union Pacific.

Ex-Governor Glick of Kansas, who has been in the city for several days looking after the Kansas building at the exposition, says that Kansas and Oklahoma never were in a better condition than they are at present. All the conditions have been very favorable for a large yield of wheat and if the price on wheat remains firm the Kansas crop will bring a large amount of money into the state. Plentiful rains have also put the ground in fine condition for a steady fall of rain. A drenching rain corn and Governor Glick says that corn is the product that affects Kansas more materially than any other. He says that a large yield of corn helps the state more than anything else and that the price of Wyo., states that a real blizzard raged in corn does not make much difference, as it the western part of Wyoming on Tuesday is fed to cattle and not put on the grain market.

That's why we thought you'd like to know that right now and right here—at The Nebraska -you can buy some of the handsomest worsted suits that ever were made for about what the cloth alone would cost if we were to buy them today. Rich, elegant, stylish suits at $7.00, $7.50, $8.00, $9.00, $10.00 and $12.00. These are the goods that our buyer closed out complete lines of from some of the best makers in the country and shipped them to us so we could have a regular Nebraska scoop. If you think that we're going to keep telling you about these special suits all summer you're mistaken, and if you think you can come in and find them here all summer you're mistaken too. By the way, are you sure you know worsted from cassimere or cheviot? Worsted goods

> Hurrah! For Our Invincible Yankee Gunners.

On land or sea none equal a yankee... Bad boy_Don_got his first trashing -Now, will you be good? You won't? Then the next time we'll thrash you hard enough so that you have an excuse to appeal to all the clown heads of Europe. Our $1.65 mackintoche is almost bul let proof. Surely water and wind proof. We guarantee everyone of The "Army of Nebraska" will make note of that.

By the way, we are surely the best value mackintosh house in Omaha. We like to hear of anyone who bought a guaranteed machintosh for $1 65 away from this store. What's more, is there any store in town that sells any kind of a mackintosh for $1.05 ?

Our serge (blue or black) $2.00 mackintoshes are precisely what these philanthropist merchant princes charge $2.50 for.

Our $3.00 mackintoshes are of either light, medium or black and blue colors_same quality of conts sell everywhere at $5 00 our price $3.90. which means that we can do better than $4.00. If we could, the price would be $3.85. That's the kind of a tore we are.

And a variety of other mackintoshes #1.25 -#4.75 -#5.00 -#0.50 -#7.50-Wik lined ones_too...
